Thanks for the offer, but I have my final dress fitting at lunch.

Whatever you decide is fine, I think Valerie just wanted to run the idea by Hans before making a final decision. Just let me know. It should be fairly simply for Will to modify the two remaining agreements in accordance to the one he is working on currently.

Thanks.

ok...i am having lunch with her today, in fact she is in the cafeteria with Bristow waiting for me....I will check; however, I thought it would be easier, quicker, faster, more efficient and better if we did it ourselves.....

wanna join us for lunch? -L

P.S. I am waiting to tell Will to revise all three Covance project agreements until Valerie confirms that we are going to proceed with PM completing the project agreements and sending them. You will recall that the original plan was to modify only one of the project agreements and then tell Covance to modify the remaining two as a teaching tool to Covance.

Thanks.
